YOUNG TALENT: Gymnastic Adventure Team members with Ronald McDonald

McDonald's to send lucky three to Olympics

THREE lucky youngsters will have the opportunity of a lifetime to travel to the Beijing Olympics, thanks to McDonald's.

As part of the McDonald's Champion Kids programme, McDonald's is searching for three children, aged between seven to 14, to 'represent' Malaysia at the Olympics. The lucky trio, who will be able to bring their parents along, will join some 300 children from across the globe at the Olympics.

McDonald's Malaysia managing director Azmir Jaafar said they were expecting no fewer than 5,000 participants.

"We want to give them the opportunity to be a part of the international event.

"When the kids get back, they can share their experiences with others who can only experience the spirit of the event through television.

"They can post their stories online, and have their Press release to share their experiences with other kids," said Azmir at Plaza TTDI yesterday.

Also present were Olympic Council of Malaysia secretary Datuk Sieh Kok Chi and vice-president of McDonald's Malaysia Marketing, Communications and Business Insights, Stephen Chew.
